Merchants Plan Turkey Drawing Saturday

Poll Tax Sale Ends on Jan. 31

Only 1,350 Randall County citizens have paid their poll taxes for 1955 although next year is a general election year with balloting due for national offices as well as county and state offices.

Tax Assessor-Collector Bill Money said last week that sales of receipts has been slow this year. In the last general election year some 7,500 receipts were issued.

For the past three weekends, volunteer workers in South Amarillo have been issuing the receipts in shopping centers. Sales in Canyon have been limited to those who contact the tax office.

Money said that sales have been two to one higher in Amarillo than in the rest of the county so far this year. Sales began Oct. 1.

In order to vote in elections in Texas, citizens must be 21 or over, have a current poll tax receipt or exemption and must be a resident of the state for one year and the county for six months.

The poll tax receipts dated 1955 is needed to vote in 1956 elections. On the ballots this year will be candidates for the President of the United States, House of Representatives, Senate, governor and other state officials and several county officials.

Money said that mail applications will be accepted by his office from those who are unable to visit during business hours. The application must show the citizen's name, home address in Randall County, age, race, sex, length of residence in the state and county and should show the voting precinct if known, the state or country of birth and whether native-born or naturalized, and the occupation of the applicant.

All mail applications must be accompanied by a check or money order for $1.75 for each poll tax receipt required.

Poll taxes must be paid in person except that a husband may pay for his wife or a wife for her husband, or the poll tax may be paid by mail.

All persons 60 years of age before Jan. 1, 1955, living outside cities of 10,000 population, do not have to secure an exemption but may vote without one. In Randall County, only those who live in South Amarillo must obtain an exemption, Money said.

All persons becoming 21 years of age after Jan. 1, 1955, and before the dates that elections are held during 1956 must secure an exemption certificate not later than 30 days prior to the date such election is held.

Money urged that every qualified citizen secure a poll tax receipt in order to participate in the elections coming up this year.

Three new voting precincts were established in South Amarillo this year and old Precinct 1, which included the entire city of Canyon, has been split at Highway 87 to form two precincts.

City Plans Closing For Christmas Rest

All Canyon merchants will be closed in observance of Christmas on Monday, according to a survey conducted last week by Roland Black, chamber of commerce manager.

Black said 90 per cent of the merchants contacted planned to close on Jan. 2, also. He said the decision to close for New Year's is up to the individual merchant.

Eight Days Left For City Paving

Only eight more shopping days remain before the city's cut-rate paving sale closes.

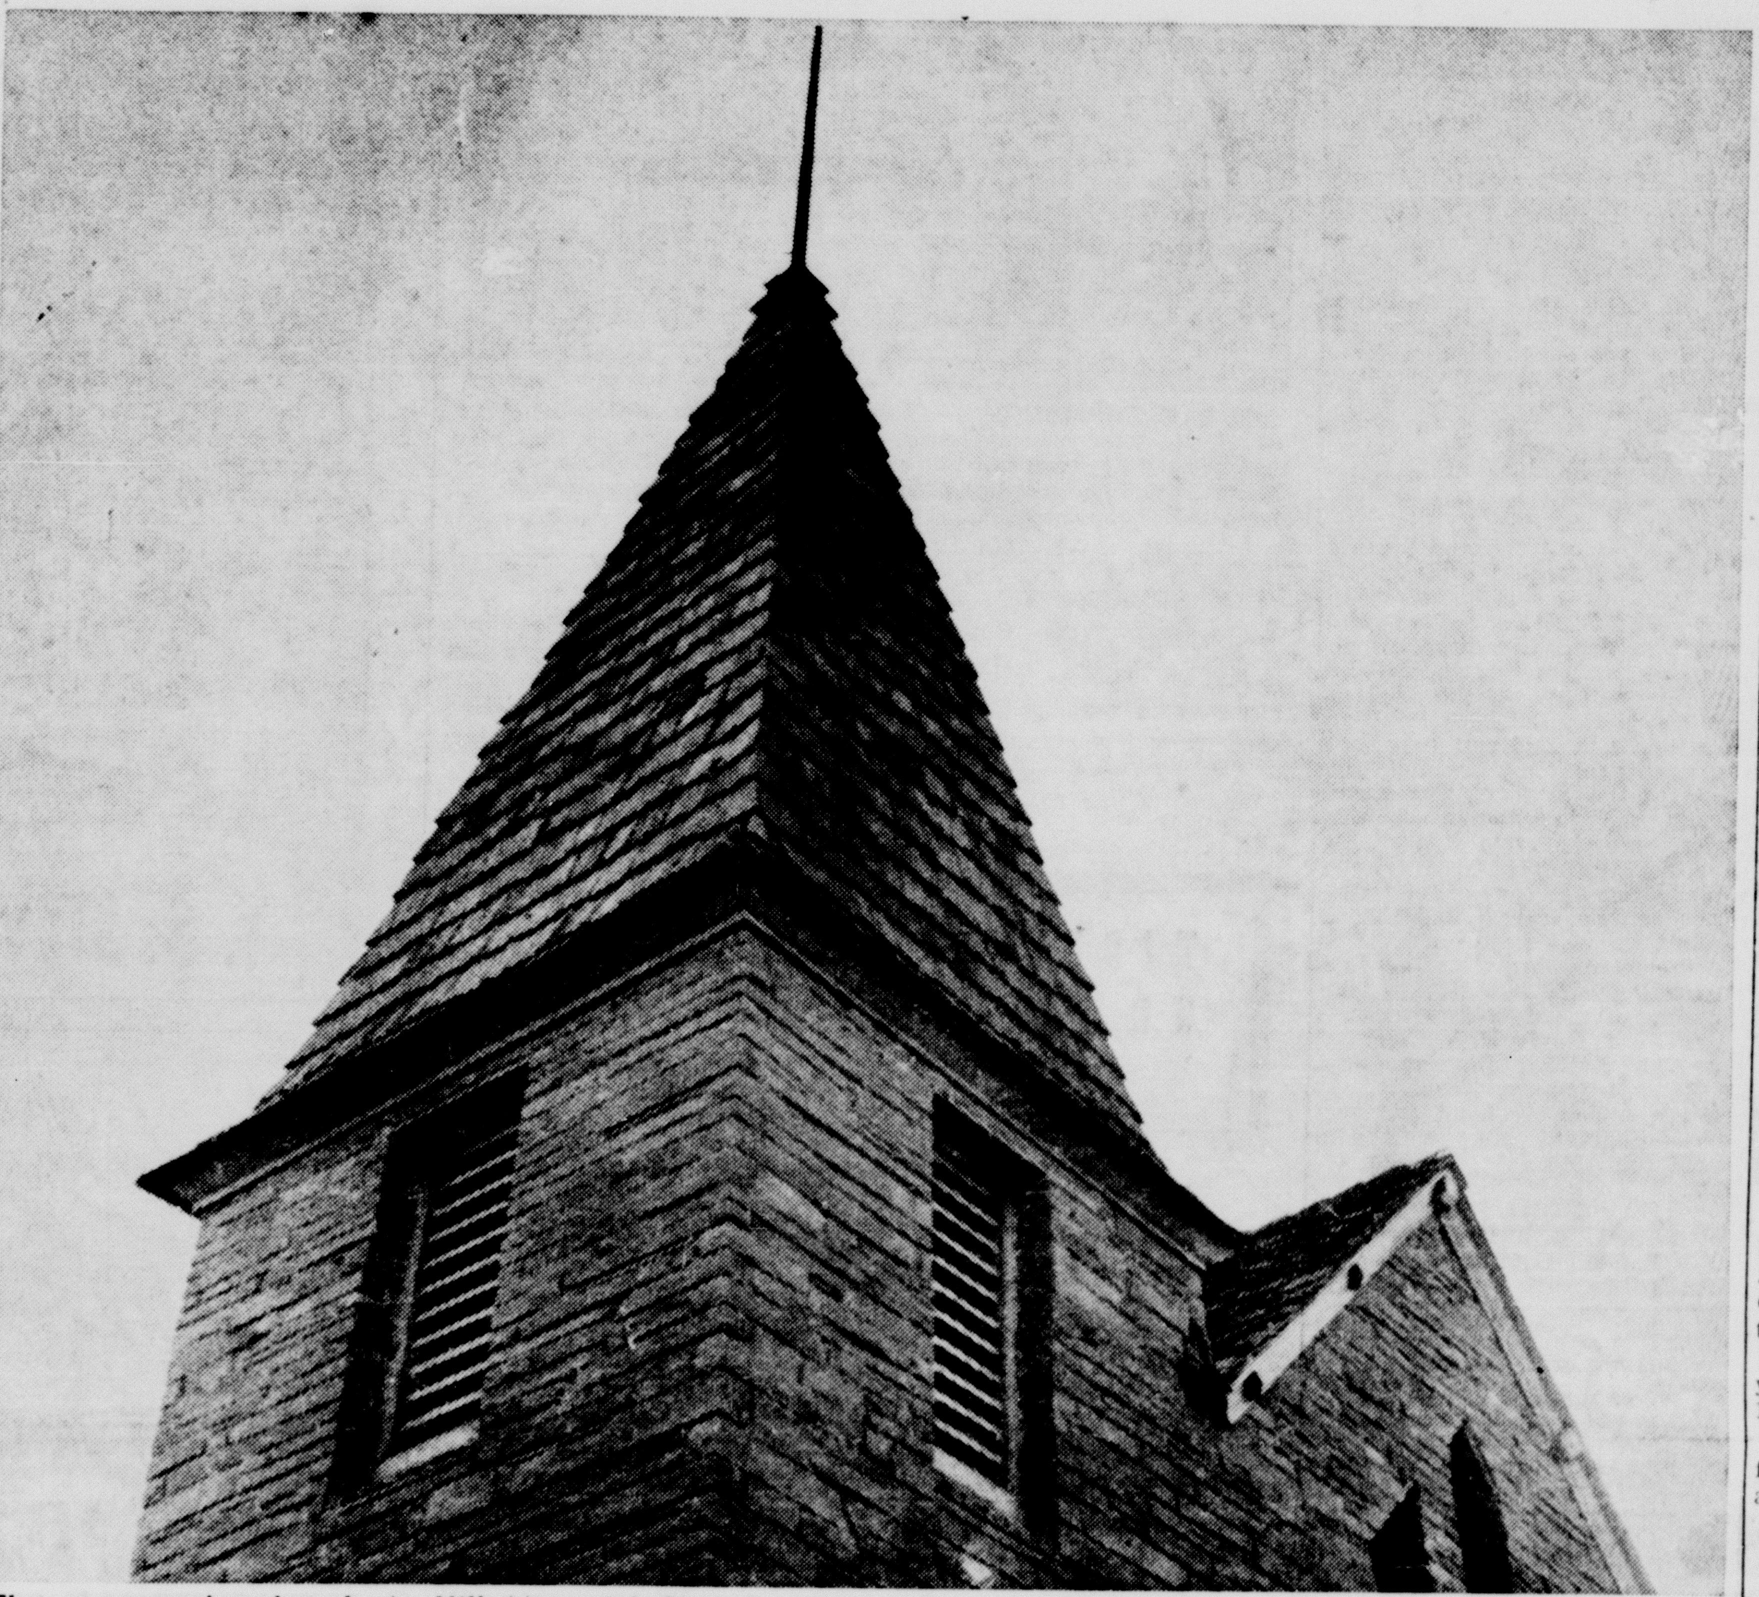
Deadline for applicants for the paving is Dec. 31, a date the commissioners set earlier this month. The paving itself will be done in the spring, while the base will be prepared this winter by city employes.

The farm-to-market specification paving is being offered at 45 cents a running foot. Property owners who wish to get in on the cut-rate offer may apply at the city hall.

Regulations provided by the commissioners require that only entire blocks will be paved and the paving must tie on to streets that are already paved.

Mrs. J. F. Thomas of Bentonville, Ark., is visiting two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Shero, and other relatives.

Christmas Day on Sunday Comes



The non-sectarian Joseph A. Hill Memorial Chapel serves as a reminder that Christmas falls on Sunday this year.

Eagles Cop Third Spot at Dumas

The Canyon Eagles won third place in the Dumas Doubleheaders last weekend by beating Hereford 42-29 in the final round of play. Canyon lost 59-51 to Dalhart in the opening round.

The Eagles meet the Ringgoid, La., Redskins Friday night in the high school gym. Ringgold will have played 32 games this season before reaching Canyon, including eight tournaments and two doubleheaders.

No information is available on their won-lost record for the season. Canyon has won six and lost three.

In the two games played in the Dumas Doubleheaders, Melvin Cunningham ran up a total of 18 field goals in 29 tries and was named to the All-Tournament team. He averaged .621 on his attempts.

Cunningham was high-point man in both games, tying with Dalhart's Larry Womble in the second game. He made 21 points from 10 field goals and one free shot in the Hereford game and 16 points from eight field goals in the Dalhart game.

The Eagles led Dalhart during the entire first three periods, only to lose when the Wolves pulled ahead in the last quarter. Canyon was ahead 10-6 at the end of the first quarter, 25-23 at the half, and 38-36 at the end of the third quarter.

The Eagles pulled ahead of Hereford in the first quarter and led all through the game. At the end of the first quarter Canyon was ahead 14-8, at the half the score was 26-15 and it was 30-25 at the end of the third quarter.

Cunningham leads Eagle scoring for the season with a total of 130 points (14.44 per game) from 58 field goals and 14 free throws. His shot average is .426 per try. He has averaged 6.44 field goals per game and 1.55 free shots. His free throw average is .388 per try.

Charles Neblett is second in scoring for the Eagles with 89 points (9.88 per game) from 32 field goals and 25 free throws. He has averaged 3.44 field goals per game and 2.80 free throws. His free shot average is .556. Neblett's field goal average is .326 per try.

A. L. Pruett follows Neblett closely with 84 points from 32 field goals and 20 free shots. Pruett has averaged 9.33 points per game and .313 is his average for field goals per attempt. He has averaged 2.23 free shots in each game and has a .500 average.

Garland Ruthart has made 20 points (2.2 per game) from eight field goals and four gratis shots. He averages .133 on his field goal attempts and .250 on his free throws.

Edgar Montgomery has made 23 points (2.55 per game) from 11 field goals and one free throw. His field goal average is .344 per try and his free shot is .250.

Harlie Adams, playing in seven games, has made 22 points from six field goals and 10 free points. His field goal average is .273 and his free shot average is .588.

Jon Cross, also playing in seven games, has made 15 points from four field goals and seven free tosses. He has averaged .363 per

E. H. Barcley Services Held

Funeral rites for Elvin Henry Barcley of Amarillo, brother of Ralph Barcley of Canyon, were conducted Thursday afternoon in Amarillo. Burial was in Memorial Park cemetery of Amarillo.

Mr. Barcley died Dec. 11 in Pampa of injuries suffered in a wreck. He was born July 29, 1903, in Oklahoma.

Others surviving include his wife, Mrs. Edna Barcley; a son, Thomas Barcley of Hereford; a daughter, Betty Jo Barcley of Amarillo; his mother, Mrs. Cora Barcley of Amarillo; two other brothers, Sidney Barcley of Tucson, Ariz., and Jim Barcley of Parr, Texas; a sister, Mrs. Irene Raney of Sweetwater, Okla.; and three grandchildren.

Cubs Begin Old Paper Collection

Cub Scout Pack 31 has begun an old paper drive in Canyon and has asked that every householder save newspapers and magazines for the drive.

The pack will pick up the papers on Saturday, Jan. 7. Householders are asked to bundle up the papers and magazines they have saved and put them in the front yards.

Benham Recovering In City Hospital

L. H. Benham of Canyon was reported to be in "fair" condition at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo yesterday where he is recovering from injuries suffered in a truck collision.

Benham is suffering a fractured right ankle, and numerous cuts and bruises.

Investigating sheriff's deputies said he was injured when his truck collided with another driven by Dick Gripps of Panhandle on N. E. 8th in Amarillo shortly after midnight Monday.

Tax (Ugh) Forms Being Mailed Out

The 1955 income tax forms and instructions to individual taxpayers will be mailed between Dec. 27 and Jan. 10 from Kansas City, H. B. Hamill, administrative officer of the Amarillo office, has announced. "Taxpayers should postpone their inquiries regarding these forms until after Jan. 10," he said.

"Taxpayers receiving tax blanks and instructions by mail should not misplace or discard them, but should save them for use in filing their tax returns, since the supply of instruction pamphlets is limited," he added.

A study of the new tax forms shows a few changes which make the return easier to complete. A new tax table for married taxpayers filing jointly eliminates the complicated computation on the return for figuring tax on split incomes.

Farmers who file and pay estimated taxes by the Jan. 15, 1956, deadline may also obtain the forms they require at district and local offices. Most post offices have a supply of tax forms for local residents.

Overnight Bag Held by Sheriff

The sheriff's office is holding a small ladies overnight bag which was found and turned in. The owner may claim the bag at the sheriff's office.

Nineteen Birds To Be Distributed To People Who Register in Stores

Nineteen turkeys will be given away Saturday afternoon by downtown merchants in Canyon.

To be presented in two drawings, the turkeys will be awarded to customers of downtown stores. In order to win, customers must write their names and addresses on cards which will be used in the drawings on the courthouse square.

The cards may be obtained from any downtown store. The customer will fill in the card and deposit it in boxes in the store. The cards will be drawn out during the afternoon.

The drawings on the square will be at 3 p. m. and 5 p. m. Saturday. Customers must be present to win. It is not necessary to purchase anything before registering.

The plans for the drawings were made at a meeting of downtown merchants last week. The turkeys are being presented in appreciation to those who patronize Canyon merchants.

Rules established for the drawings provide that customers may register only once each day in any store. The boxes for registering will be available today, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Only one turkey may be won by any one family.

The turkeys will be dressed and ready for Christmas cooking.

Those firms which are giving turkeys include Anderson Appliance, Western Auto Store, Thompson Hardware, Olympic and Varsity Theaters, M. E. Moses, Sternenberg Lumber, Canyon News, Cooper's Market, Cheatham's Clothiers, J. J. Walker Prescription Pharmacy, T. A. Black, Lindsey Motor, Canyon Drug, Southwestern Public Service Company, Roland Black, and Bellah Supermarket and Foster Insurance Agency, two turkeys each.

Anyone who patronizes Canyon merchants is invited to register for the turkeys and attend the drawings. The boxes for registration will be available at all downtown stores.

Views and Comments

We had planned to write Christmas editorials this week, but the more we thought of it, the more we decided we'd never be able to tell the story nearly so well as it is written on the first page of the second section of this week's Christmas edition. So, we won't attempt.

We at the News, Jack and Dorothy Haley, Charles Hillier, Gladys Samples, Gene Mickey, Dovie Keene, Dean House, Don Duncan and Bill Cherry, wish all of our readers a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Two weeks ago H. M. Baggarly, editor of the Tulia Herald, wrote in his column about how disgusting it is for the traveling public, including himself, to slow down while passing through Canyon on the way to Amarillo.

We saw the column and passed it around downtown so others could read it. We also wrote Baggarly a letter, suggesting that the low speed limit was set as a protection for the children attending school at the new elementary school and for the slightly older children attending school at West Texas State.

Baggarly published our letter last week, and commented that the highway was there before the school so Canyon should not have put the school where it is. He said the highways belong to all the people, not just to Canyon.

Also in our letter to Baggarly, we suggested he might solve his problem of getting through Canyon to Amarillo by turning left at the stoplight and coming downtown where he can buy almost anything he can buy in Amarillo.

Baggarly commented that he was not on his way to Amarillo to buy things, but to deliver printing done ordered by Amarillo people.

In the meantime, Mayor Hosea Foster read the column and the city officials went to work.

They checked the tickets issued for speeding on the highway and found that none had been issued for less than 30 miles an hour, and none had been issued to folks from Tulia for slower than 45 miles an hour.

They found that it takes 30 seconds longer to get through Canyon on Highway 87 at 25 miles an hour than it does at 45 miles an hour.

So, Mayor Foster wrote a letter to Mayor John Brown of Tulia, pointing out that the speeding tickets were issued only for flagrant violations, that the schools are situated on the highways and a policewoman is on duty at the elementary school during school hours only, and that the city lets the college students look out for themselves for the most part.

To help things along, Mayor Foster wrote, "If ye editor's time is so valuable, we will, upon notice, arrange a police escort through Canyon at 60 m. p. h."

Baggarly, in his original column, said that a bypass should be provided around Canyon. We don't know if he's been told yet, but there's a road that runs from Happy to Amarillo that he could use if necessary. It's a dirt road, and would not be so fast as the highway, but at least the Tulia editor wouldn't have to come through Canyon.

A recent report from Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., shows there are 22 more business concerns in Randall County now than there were five years ago. The report says that in 1951 there were 105 businesses listed by the company and the 1956 listing, due out in January, will show 127 listings.

The report goes on to say that there are probably more businesses than are shown in the book, as it lists only manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers and some service companies such as laundries and gasoline service stations. Not listed are such businesses as barber and beauty shops, real estate and stock brokers.

There are only eight more shopping days in which to take advantage of the city's bargain sale on paving. The deadline set by the commissioners is Dec. 31. The cost is low, 45 cents a running foot for the farm-to-market type paving. The city will accept contracts to pave only full blocks, and that contracted for must tie on to existing paving. Hurry, don't miss the sale of the year.

Canyon merchants have gone together to show their appreciation to their customers with the big turkey drawings Saturday. At a meeting last week at which the drawings were planned, several merchants said that big crowds at this time of year would not help their businesses, but that they wanted to donate turkeys anyway. One even said he didn't care whether his firm's name was mentioned or not.

At any rate, the dozen or so turkeys will be given away Saturday and there's nothing to buy to be eligible to win. All you need do is register and be there at the drawings.

After the heavy rush of Christmas work, Canyon business houses will be closed for a post-Christmas holiday Monday. Almost all will also close Jan. 2 for the New Year holiday—at least that's the excuse they're using for an uninterrupted afternoon of watching bowl games on television.

It seems that Amarillo's plan of taking care of heavy Christmas traffic is backfiring. It seems to be successful in keeping the traffic moving, but it isn't helping people find a place to park so they can go shop awhile.

Just last week we heard two ladies talking together (we weren't really eavesdropping, just walking down the street at the same time) and found that they were from Amarillo. They were saying how nice it is to be able to shop at leisure. In fact, one said, "I'm not going to drive downtown (in Amarillo) to shop again this Christmas."

While talking with one of Amarillo's bigger businessmen last week, we were told that he wouldn't blame anyone for not shopping downtown there. "At 8:30 a. m. Monday (that was the 5th) all the parking lots in the downtown area were taken. And the stores don't open until 9."

We have known Amarillo people who shopped here in Canyon because they could find better quality items at lower prices. And, we often hear Amarillo women commenting on how much lower grocery prices are here.

One of the arguments used in favor of building the expressway was that it would put Canyon within 10 minutes (or 12, 8, 13, according to whom you were listening to) of Amarillo—but that will probably work the other way more than most of us think.

Canyon will be in the position of being as accessible as a neighborhood shopping center in Amarillo with the advantages of more diversified retail outlets. We might attract not only Amarillo citizens wanting to live here, but also Amarillo citizens wanting to shop here.

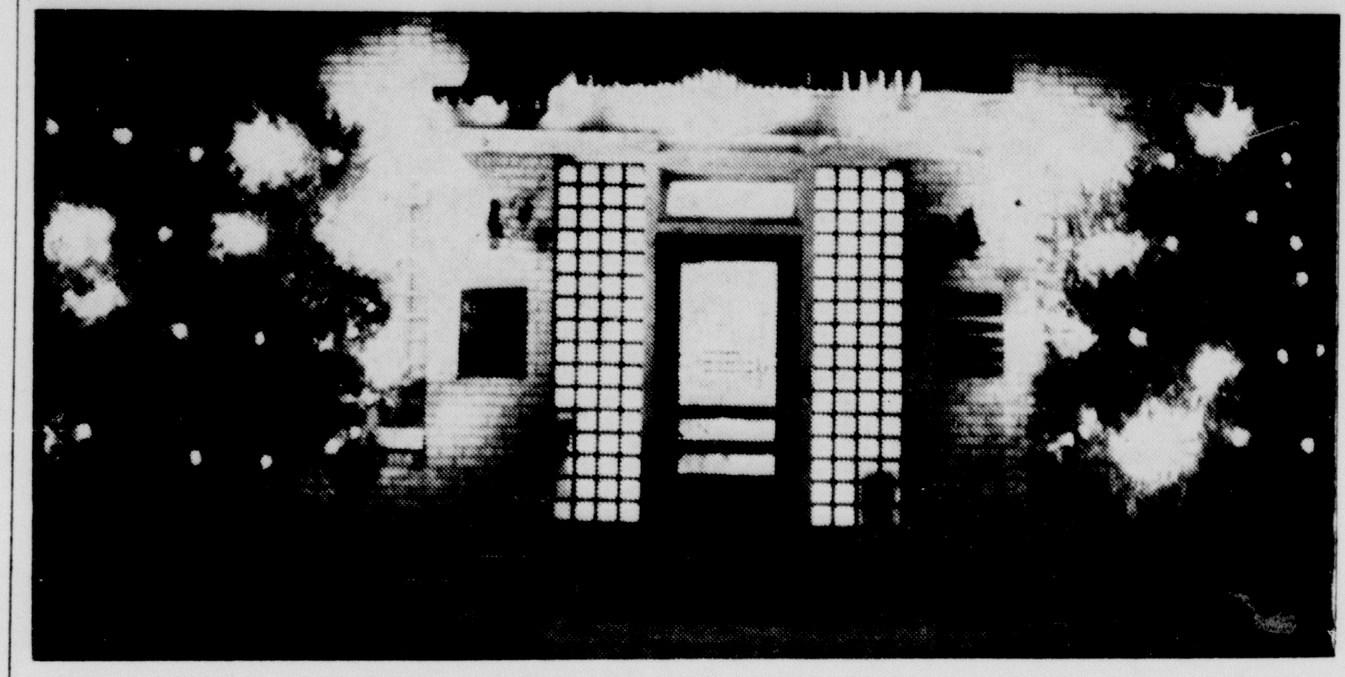
Tree-Lighted Hospital



Christmas lights in the two evergreens flanking the front door of Neblett Hospital light up the entrance almost as well as the sun does.

Around the Town . .

By DOVIE KEENE

One of Peter Marshall's most inspirational and memorable sermons was written for Christmas and is entitled "Let's Keep Christmas." An excerpt from this sermon reads:

"I thank God for Christmas. Would that it lasted all year. For on Christmas Eve, and Christmas Day, all the world is a better place, and men and women are more lovable. Love itself seeps into every heart, and miracles happen. When Christmas doesn't make your heart swell up until it nearly bursts . . . and fill your eyes with tears . . . and make you all soft and warm inside . . . then you'll know that something inside of you is dead.

"We hope that there will be snow for Christmas. Why? It is not really important, but it is so nice, and old-fashioned, and appropriate, we think.

"Isn't it wonderful to think that nothing can really harm the joy of Christmas . . . Although your Christmas tree decoration will include many new gadgets, such as lights with bubbles in them, it's the old tree decorations that mean the most . . . the ones you save carefully from year to year . . . the crooked star that goes on top of the tree . . . the ornaments that you've been so careful with.

"And you'll bring out the tiny manger, and the shed, and the little figures of the Holy Family, and lovingly arrange them on the mantel or in the middle of the dining room table. And getting the tree will be a family event, with great excitement for the children. And there will be a closet into which you'll forbid your husband to look. And he will be moving through the house mysteriously with bundles under his coat, and you'll pretend not to notice.

"There will be the fragrance of cookies baking, spices and fruit cake, and the warmth of the house shall be melodious with the lilting strains of 'Silent Night, Holy Night.'

"And you'll listen to the wonderful Christmas music on the radio. Some of the songs will be modern—good enough music perhaps—but it will be the old carols, the lovely Christmas hymns that will mean the most.

"And forests of fir trees will march right into our living rooms. There will be bells on our doors and holly wreaths in our windows. And we shall sweep the Noel skies for their brightest colors and festoon our homes with stars.

"There will be chubby stockings hung by the fireplace, and with finger to lip you will whisper and ask me to tip-toe, for a little tousled head is asleep and must not be awakened until after Santa has come.

"And finally Christmas morning will come. Don't worry—you'll be ready for it—You'll catch the spirit all right, OR IT WILL CATCH YOU, WHICH IS EVEN BETTER.

"And then you will remember what Christmas means—the beginnings of Christianity, the Second Chance for the world, the hope for peace, the only way. The promise that the angels sang is the most wonderful music the world has ever heard.

"'Peace on earth and good will toward men.'"

"Let's Keep Christmas" was read by Mrs. Lee Foster at the Woman's Book Club which was entertained with a seasonal program planned by Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Joe E. Gibson and given in the home of Mrs. R. A. Neblett.

Furthering the religious theme, Mrs. Foster also read the Christmas story as recorded in Luke 2:1-19 interspersed with eight descriptive songs sung by Mrs. Bruce Winn.

At the meeting was the high school sextette composed of Debra McDonald, Jean Hinson, Theresa Mickey, Rachel Smith, Rita Joyce Grabbe and Fanita Marshall, accompanist. Songs from their repertoire were "Angels We Have Heard on High," "Carol of The Bells," and "It's Beginning to Look Like Christmas."

A lot of fun and laughter came at Santa Claus time when Mrs. Walter Graham assumed the leading role and distributed the gifts.

In the business meeting of the Woman's Book Club Thursday night Mrs. Lee Foster was endorsed unanimously as the first vice president of the seventh district of the Federated Women's Clubs of Texas. Other business was a report on the contribution of $25.75 for the public library Christmas gift.

Also on Thursday night at the Methodist Church, a turkey Christmas dinner was sponsored by the Crusaders class. Money from the dinner is to be used for a charity project.

The women of the class prepared the food and the men were the waiters.

Debs Loudder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Loudder, arrived home last week from Castroville for the Christmas holidays.

We understand there was quite a large crowd at the P-TA meeting last Thursday night especially among the youngsters. Mrs. Cortez Dowlen estimated that out of the 320 children enrolled in primary grades, 150 were present. This large group entertained with carols directed by Royal Brantley.

Bob Wear, the main speaker, developed the topic of "The Family Lives by Spiritual Values."

Mrs. J. C. Dowd left recently for Yukon, Alaska, to spend Christmas with Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Helmich and family.

Christmas is a great time for visiting or so thinks a rather large group of Canyon High School graduates. Classes of '48, '53, '54 and '55 are planning reunions for the holidays.

The first one is scheduled tomorrow night in the high school cafeteria. The class of '53 will begin a long round of handshaking and backslapping at 7:30 p. m. This class, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Devin, graduated with 58 members.

On Monday the doors of the high school cafeteria will again be thrown open at 7:30 p. m. to welcome the class of '48 with 41 members. T. L. Devin and Luline Brown were the sponsors that year.

The most recent graduates, the class of '55, will meet in the new elementary school building on Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. Rejoining the class that graduated with a total of 62 persons will be sponsors, Mrs. Dan Sanders and Waylon Carroll.

Invitations will go to 61 persons of the '54 class requesting them to attend a reunion at 7:30 p. m., Dec. 29 in the elementary building. Sponsors of this class were Mrs. Cecil Simms and Eddie Conner.

Speaking of reunions, the Nipper family had a reunion Dec. 11 with a turkey dinner and all the trimmings. The E. L. Cranmer home was the site for this annual event.

During the afternoon, the guests played "42" and exchanged gifts. Participating in these events were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nipper and son, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koetting from Groom, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davis and daughters from Borger.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Williams and family from White Deer, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Nipper and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hermesmeyer from Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Cranmer and family.

Something nice to have around at Christmas or anytime is a new house. The Lynn Hulseys agree as they are the proud occupants of a new home at 2516 Ninth Avenue.

Completed just before Thanksgiving, their house is of American beauty brick with a constrasting white roof. It contains two bedrooms, a combined living room and dining room, and a combined kitchen and den.

At each end of the living room and dining room are large windows. The kitchen cabinets are of knotty pine as are part of the den walls. Carpet is laid throughout the rooms.

Mrs. Hulsey enjoys the large dressing table and floor length mirror provided in the green tile bathroom and the spacious closet storage and comfortable den.

About 40 people inspected the Hulseys' home early in December. (Give us time and we'll catch up with all you merry house builders.)

Hostesses, Mrs. Guy Harrison, Mrs. Don Briggs, and Mrs. Charles Gerald and Mrs. Bob Bellah gave a surprise housewarming on Dec. 4 and presented two lamps to the Hulsey family.

Mrs. Bellah and Mrs. Gerald served punch and cookies from a table decorated with a Christmas centerpiece and ornaments. Mrs. George Cristy presided at the punch bowl.

Well, here's hoping everyone has checked their gift lists twice and forgotten no one. But if you have, there's still time for a last desperate rush in the three remaining days.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

HE'LL KNOW

As a small boy was preparing for his first day of school his pleasure in his new lunch box was being spoiled by concern that he would not be able to identify it. His mother had carefully printed his name on the box but, of course, as yet, he could not read.

Suddenly his face lighted up as he exclaimed: "Oh, I won't be using my lunch box until noon, and by then I'll know how to read!"

Holiday Candy Recipes Offered

"Homemade candies can be fun to make if you know how to test," says Mrs. Mona K. Hildreth, County Home Demonstration Agent.

Using the cold water test is the most common method for checking. Drop a small portion of the candy mixture into a bowl of cold water and note the kind of ball formed. Fondants, when done, should form a small soft ball which flattens out when held on the tip of the thumb.

A firm ball—the test for caramels—will hold its shape when lifted on the finger. For divinity and popcorn balls the syrup should form a hard ball which can be manipulated with the fingers.

The soft crack stage for butterscotch or taffy means that threads are hard but not brittle. Hard crack threads will snap when tapped against the side of the bowl. Use a fresh bowl of cold water each time you make a test.

To get a correct reading with a candy thermometer, make sure the thermometer does not touch any part of the pan and have bulb completely covered with the candy mixture. Read the temperature at up-level—not from above or below.

For best results with candy making read your recipe carefully before you begin, have all supplies ready and follow the directions given.

CANDY

'Aunt Bill's Brown Candy'

3 pts. white sugar
1 pt. whole milk or cream
¼ lb. butter or oleo
¼ tsp. soda
1 tsp. vanilla
2 lbs. nut meats

First pour 1 pint of sugar into a heavy aluminum or iron skillet and place it over a low fire. Begin stirring with a wooden spoon and keep sugar moving so that it will not scorch at all. It will take almost 30 min. to completely melt sugar and at no time let it smoke or cook so fast that it turns dark. It should be almost the color of light brown sugar syrup.

As soon as you have the sugar started to heat in the skillet, pour the remaining 2 pts. of sugar together with the 1 pt. of cream into a deep heavy kettle and set it over a low fire to cook along slowly while you are melting the other sugar in the skillet. As soon as all the sugar is melted begin pouring it into the kettle of boiling milk and sugar, keeping it on a very slow heat and stirring constantly.

Aunt Bill always said to pour a stream no larger than a knitting needle and to stir across bottom of kettle all the time. Continue cooking and stirring until the mixture forms a firm ball when dropped into cold water.

Then add butter, set off the stove but not out of doors, for 20 min. Add vanilla and nuts and beat. Use wooden spoon and beat a glossy sheen. Add nuts and mix. Then into aluminum foil lined pans. Cool before cutting into squares.

This keeps moist and delicious indefinitely and is most attractive when decorated with a sprig of holly, candied cherries and halves of pecans.

'Peanut Brittle'

2 cups sugar
1 cup corn syrup
⅔ cup water
2 cups peanuts
2 tablespoons butter
2 tsp. soda

Cook sugar, corn syrup and water until forms long strings (12 inches long). Add butter and peanuts—cook until light brown or amber. Then remove from fire, add soda and beat it in. Don't spread out on pan. Use cookie sheet.

Date Loaf

3 cups sugar
1 cup milk
¼ cup white corn syrup
½ lb. pitted dates
1 cup chopped nuts

Cook sugar, milk, corn syrup and dates to soft ball stage (235 to 240 degrees F.) Stir as needed to prevent burning. Remove from fire. Cool to 104 degrees F. which is just above lukewarm. Beat until it begins to harden. Add nuts and turn on to a damp cloth. Shape into a roll 2 inches in diameter. Let stand until firm. Cut into slices as needed. This candy will keep some time if tightly covered. 25 to 30 slices ¼-inch thick.

Thieves Beware, Legend Untrue!

It isn't recommended nowadays, but back in the old, old days it was believed a thief who stole successfully on Christmas Day could pilfer throughout the remainder of the year and escape unharmed.

That is only one of many fascinating beliefs that legends hold to be true about Christmas.

For instance, legend has it that someone will die in the house if a light goes out during Christmas Day.

Just as fantastic, but more likely to appeal, is the superstition from Scottish folklore that water will turn to wine at midnight Christmas eve.

In Germany the same belief was prevalent, with one exception: the water turned into a more potent beverage than wine.

Fruit growers will like this one: a stone placed on each tree Christmas eve will insure a greater yield.

Nosy people will be attracted by this one: Walk into a cornfield Christmas even and you'll hear everything that's going to happen in your town during the next 12 months.

Florida citrus industry views with alarm Food and Drug Administration's order banning use of artificial food dyes now used to color oranges. There's usually a lack of sufficiently cool weather to give Florida's oranges the color which is taken erroneously by the public as proof that oranges are ripe.

Gladys Leseberg Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Leseberg announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Gladys, to Lee Roy Bauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Bauer of Happy.

The wedding is scheduled to take place Jan. 27.

Historical Events Of Christmas Day

Christmas Day, the legendary birthday of Christ, also marks the anniversary of a number of historical events.

Proclamation of Charlemagne as emperor was issued on Christmas in the year 800; William the Conquerer was crowned Christmas Day, 1066, and on the same day in 1492 Columbus' ship, the aSanta Maria, was wrecked.

Christmas Day, 1776, is remembered as the day Washington crossed the Delaware and it was also on that day in 1462 that Sir Isaac Newton was born. It is also the birthday of Peter Tschaikovsky in 1840 and of Clara Barton, 1812.

The battle of Mier in Mexico was fought on Dec. 25, 1842; Shay's Rebellion started Dec. 25, 1786, and the battle of Okeechobee was fought, with the Seminoles, on Christmas in 1837.

Other anniversary dates are the founding of Nashville, 1780; discovery of Christmas Island by Captain Cook in 1777, and the Peace of Dresden, with Austria, Prussia and Saxony participating, was signed on Christmas in 1745.

Miscellaneous Shower Given Winifred Fain

Winifred Fain, bride-elect of Jimmy Golden, was honored with a miscellaneous shower Dec. 9 from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. B. Z. Woodward. Winifred is the daughter of Mrs. J. W. Fain.

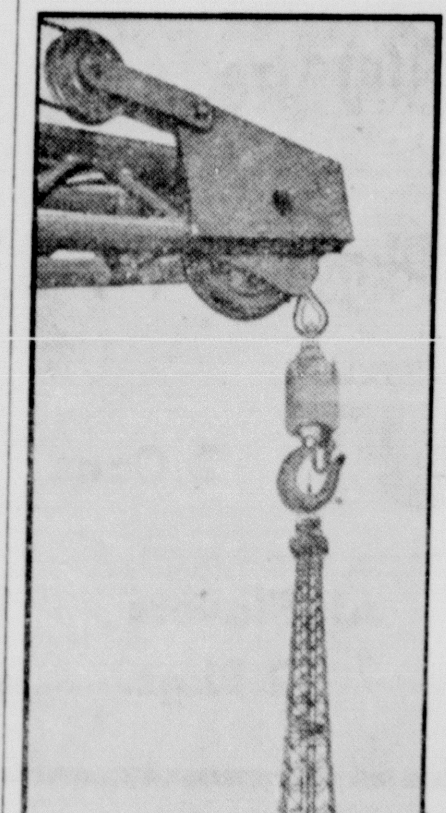
At the refreshment table, the bride's chosen colors of pink and silver were carried out. Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Latham served punch and cake and Bernye Bob Woodward presided at the guest book.

Approximately 64 guests sent or brought gifts.

WILL BE

An irate landowner came in the other day to have a sign printed for posting his property:

"No Hunting or Fishing. Survivors Will Be Prosecuted."



OF COURSE NOT — They're not moving the Eiffel Tower. Photographer's ingenuity, however, went into high gear when he spotted this seeming connection between crane and tower as he passed a construction project some distance from the world-famous Paris landmark.

So They're The Ones Who Started It All

The question of who originated the printed Christmas card, more than 100 years ago, has been settled by the National Association of Greeting Card publishers.

Since 1941, when a copy of a card was found in the British museum, the originator was designated as William Maw Egley, 16-year-old apprentice engraver; the time—1842.

New evidence, however, questions Egley's authorship and gives credit to Sir Henry Cole and lithographer John C. Horsley for the first card; the time—1843.

Cards credited to Egley and Cole are similar. Both were etched in black and white; both show drinking, dancing and holiday merriment scenes and both carry holiday greetings.

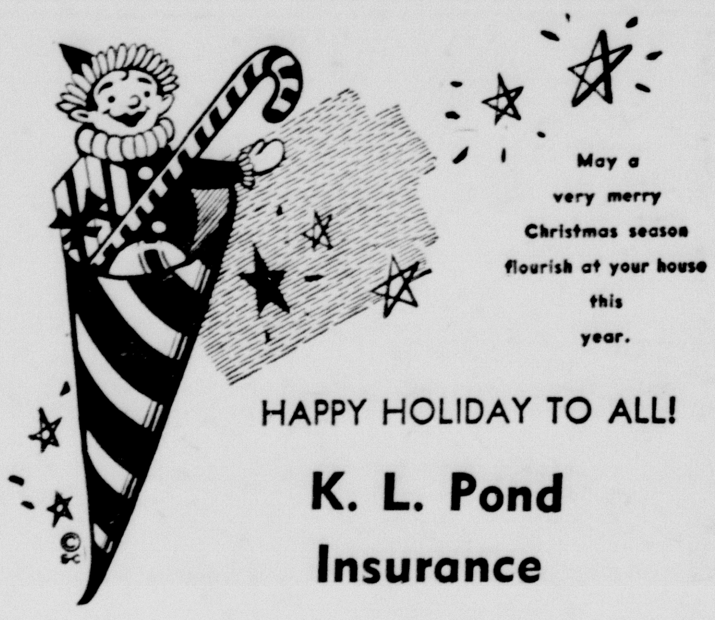
Evidence that Egley is not the originator comes from a framed copy of the Egley card, which reportedly carries a note on the back in the apprentice's handwriting. The note says the card was finished Dec. 4, 1848, and is the "second ever published."

Regardless of the Christmas greeting card originator, Americans this year are expected to mail approximately 2 billion cards to family, friends and business associates.

ONE CONSOLATION

"What do you think of our two candidates for senator?"

"Well, now, there's one consolation, we can't elect both of them."



May a very merry Christmas season flourish at your house this year.

HAPPY HOLIDAY TO ALL!

That's right —

you can buy a '56 Buick for the price of a smaller car

This new Buick Special 2-Door 6-Passenger Sedan delivers locally for less than some models of the well-known smaller cars. Come in and check!

This one has moved a lot of folks to change their buying habits.

For this strapping sweep of car is a Buick Special — solid Buick through and through, and sedan-big for six adults.

Yet the dollar difference between this beauty and the well-known smaller cars can be sifted down to a pocketful of pennies. (Actually, this Buick costs less than some models of those very same cars—as the price we'll show you proves.)

But the difference in brawn and breadth and fun and thrill—that's the clincher for the move to Buick...

It comes from new, record-high power—from a big new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine, the same basic engine that powers the costlier Buicks.

It comes from a new Buick ride—backboned by Buick heft, sinewed by stout steel, leveled by all-coil springing, cushioned by triple-oil-volume shock absorbers.

It comes from a new and advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow† that brings you brilliant new getaway response and bigger gas mileage in your normal driving range—plus sizzling new full-power safety-surge when you floor the pedal and switch the pitch.

And it comes, of course, from Buick size and solidity and steadiness — and all dressed up in Buick's new sweep-ahead style.

So why not come in and try one on for size?

Drop in this week and borrow a key. What happens from that point on is pure thrill—aided and abetted by low prices that make this the best buy yet.

†New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Best Buick yet

Murray State Drops Buffs, Hamline In Fourth Annual Christmas Tourney

Murray State of Kentucky ran up scores of more than 100 points in their games both nights—downing Hamline University 111-80 Monday, then trouncing West Texas State 101-76 Tuesday night.

In the other two games of the series, West Texas State defeated New Mexico University 88-80 on Monday night and Hamline beat the same team 70-59 Tuesday night.

The remarkable Thoroughbreds from Murray netted a sizzling .501 in field goal attempts against Hamline Monday, then fell off to a mere .411 against West Texas.

Ray Burrus led the last-night scoring with 30 points, but the five Murray starters made more than 10 points each. Joe Mikez and Dick Kinder were tied for first with 20 each, John Powless and Howie Crittenden second with 17 each and Francis Watron was third with 10 points.

Only Allen Simpson was in the scoring teens for the Buffs with 17 points.

Final statistics in the Murray State-West Texas State showed that Murray attempted 90 field goals and hit 37. West Texas tried 78 times and made it 25.

Hamline's Dave Schneider led scoring in Tuesday night's opener with 20 points from six field goals and nine free shots. Hamline made .311 of their field goal attempts while New Mexico dumped in .283 of theirs.

During first night play, West Texas shot a fine .477 from the field, while dropping New Mexico's Lobos, who shot .423.

Crowds of an estimated 2,000 watched the games both nights.

'. . . He Shalt Call His Name Jesus'

There was in the days of Herod, the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia: and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth. And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless. And they had not child, because that Elisabeth was barren, and they both were now well stricken in years.

And it came to pass, that while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course, according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the time of incense. And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense.

And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him. But the angel said unto him:

"Fear not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John. And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth. For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink; and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb.

"And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God. And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a people prepared for the Lord."

. . . And it came to pass, that, as soon as the days of his ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house. And after those days his wife Elisabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying, "Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he looked on me, to take away my reproach among men."

And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary.

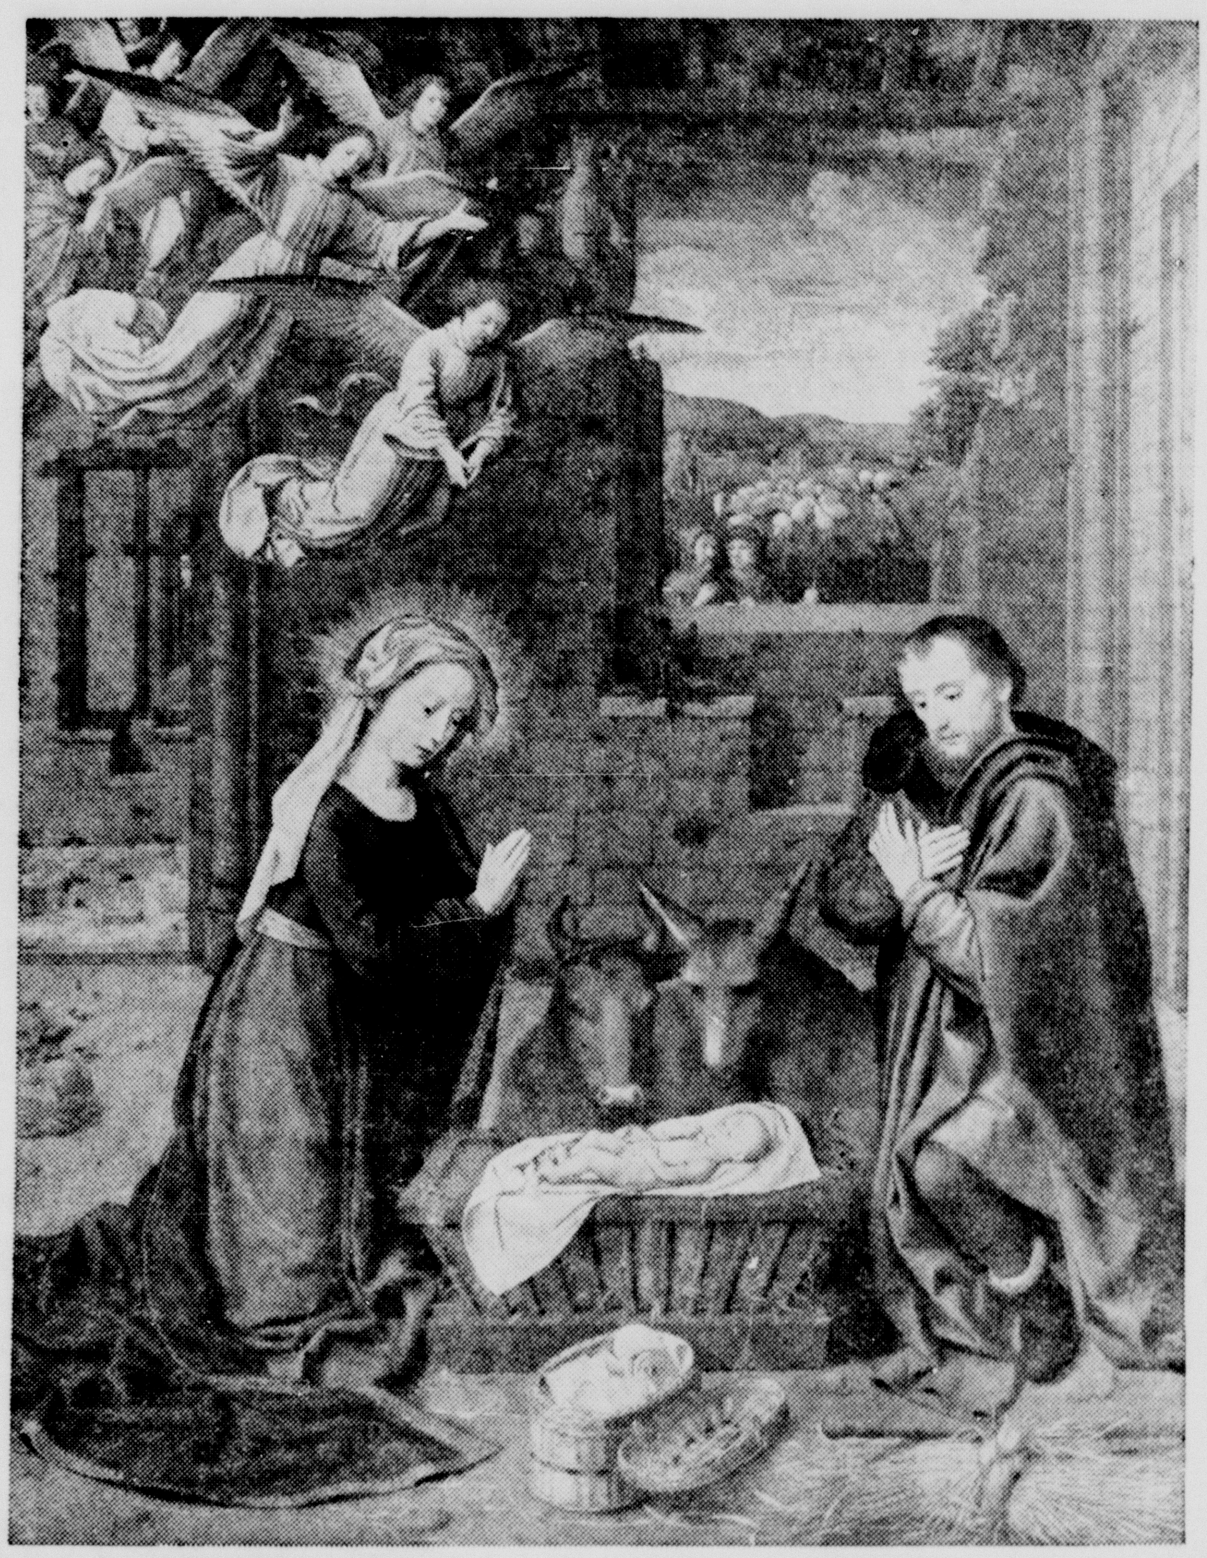
And the angel came in unto her, and said, "The Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women."

And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.

And the angel said unto her, "Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favor with God. And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and he shalt call his name Jesus.

"He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest: and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David: and he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end."

Then said Mary unto the angel, "How shall this be, seeing I know not a man?"



And the angel answered and said unto her, "The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God . . . . For with God nothing shall be impossible."

. . . And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed . . . and all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem . . . to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, "Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger."

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, "Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us."

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child. And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds. But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called JESUS. . .

State Predicts Holiday Deaths

AUSTIN—Two hundred and four persons are slated to meet with violent deaths in Texas during the 11-day Christmas-New Year's holidays.

That was the grim prediction issued today by Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, based on the estimates of his chief statistician, N. K. Woerner.

According to Woerner, the 11-day period (from 12:01 a. m., Dec. 23, to 11:59 p. m., Jan. 2) will bring 112 motorcides; 39 homicides and suicides; and 53 other accidental deaths, such as fires, drownings, etc.

Last year the DPS statistician predicted that 108 persons would die in Texas traffic accidents during the holidays, which also spanned 11 days. The final count was exactly 108.

The number of homicides and suicides and other violent deaths was slightly under the estimated at the end of 1954.

Garrison said that, as usual, he is appealing to all motorists and pedestrians in the state to strive toward making Woerner's motorcide estimate "far too high."

"If every user of the streets and highways will observe all the traffic laws and exercise courtesy in driving and walking," Garrison said, "we can prove that Chief Woerner's prediction of motorcides during this holiday season is far too high and thus assure a substantial number of those 112 tentative traffic victims and their families a really Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Broomweed Responsible for Weak Premature Calves in Experiments

COLLEGE STATION—Weak premature calves and retained placentas in beef cows have been experimentally produced by feeding a species of perennial broomweed. These results were obtained in feeding trials conducted during the past three years at Marfa and Seminole.

The trials were conducted by Dr. J. W. Dollahite, associate veterinarian, and M. V. Anthony, assistant range specialist, of the Animal Disease Laboratory of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Marfa.

Assisting with the studies were station staff members and Gaines County Agent L. H. McElroy. The Gaines County Commissioners Court provided the Station with a grant-in-aid for $5,000 to support the work and ranchmen in Gaines and other counties cooperated.

Broomweed is found from the timber belt of Texas westward to Arizona, north to Idaho and south into Mexico. It is also commonly known as turpentine-weed, slinkweed and threadleaf broomweed.

The research workers say that broomweed will cause premature weak calves and retined placentas when in the toxic stages. The quantity of a plant a cow must consume to produce symptoms varies widely in different years, in different seasons of the year and on different soil types.

The cause of these variations has not been determined nor the toxic principle of the plant established.

In the trials 23 cows were fed broomweed. Thirteen delivered normal calves while 10 cows produced premature weak calves, weighing from 30 to 45 pounds. Nine cows passed their placentas normally and 14 retained their placentas for three to ten days after calving.

A survey of grazing habits of cows at the time of outbreaks has always shown them to be grazing broomweed. Losses may occur at any time but the heaviest come in the period from December to April.

In the Gaines county area, losses occur almost every year and in affected herds, 10 to 60 per cent of the calves will be weak and premature. Some calves will survive if properly cared for while others are born dead and most die before they are 48 hours old.

The research workers have not produced experimentally abortions in the early stages of pregnancy.

The complete report of the three-year trials is available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for Progress Report 1825, Experimental Production of Premature Calves and Retained Placentas by Feeding a Species of Perennial Broomweed.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

BY LOUISE ALLEN

A Christmas of tinsel and bright wrappings, some say, is not a real Christmas. Ideally, that is true. The realest Christmas is one of warm fellowship with loved ones, of beautiful religious music that bespeaks peace on earth, good will toward men. It is a season for sharing and giving; for happy children unloading their stockings, squealing happily over a sleepy doll or a rocking horse.

But that is ideal. For many, Christmas cannot be that way. A family may have grown up, or gone away. Children may be scattered across several states, or spending the holiday with 'in-laws.' Many, many persons at Christmas time find they must put up a front to seem in the spirit of things at all.

For them, the tinsel and bright wrappings are more than a commercialized sham. They are the setting for a real human drama — in which they will act a part as in a play. The 'trimmings' help set the stage for such make-believe.

And just as a bright wrapping often conceals a practical and much-needed gift, so business with candles, and holly, and fruit cake, make the lonely one feel a part of the season whether or not everything is as she would have wished. Soon, that feeling becomes real, and as she helps others to enjoy the holiday, her make-believe is no longer make-believe.

The Christmas season is one for feeling closer to our fellows, whether rich or poor. Personally, we're thankful for the tinsel and bright wrappings. For us, they touch off the practical and much-needed desire to join in the season's joy.

Dear Santa,

Dear Santa,

I would like to have a football game for Christmas. And I would like to have a basketball game for Christmas. And I have been a good boy my name is Ivan Pond. My street number is 2224 Fifth Ave.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Russian Show Places

The Russian people in Moscow look with great pride on several particular projects which they feel they have built and achieved themselves without any reference to the influence of the czarist regimes. One of these is the USSR Agricultural Exhibition which shows the nation's achievements in socialist agriculture. Another is the University of Moscow and a third is the Metropole or subway system.

USSR Agricultural Exhibition

This exhibition or show place was opened in Moscow on Aug. 1, 1954. It is similar to a large fair ground in the states—for instance, the State of Texas Fair Grounds at Dallas. The exhibition occupies an area of 207 hectares, which is approximately 500 acres.

It has more than 300 structures with a total volume of over two million cubic metres. It has about 35 kilometres of asphalted roads and about the same area of sidewalks.

The transportation problem is met by the use of trolley-buses. There are many huge, elaborate and ornate fountains and pools. These reminded me very much of the pictures that you see of the old fair grounds at the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair.

There are 76 pavilions in which the exhibits are displayed. Sixteen pavilions are occupied by the Union Republics and 12 are used by the Autonomous Republics of the Russian Federation. These are all located on what is known as Kolkhoz Square, which is more or less the heart of the entire exhibition.

Our limited time permitted us to visit only a few of the exhibits—the Main Pavilion, the Armenian Exhibit, the Machinery Building and the Cattle Building. The displays closely resembled the displays of these same types of products at county fairs throughout this country.

The machinery exhibit was more interesting to me because they had several types of tractors and automobiles. The tractors were usually caterpillar type and had an enclosure for the operator that was equipped with a heater. This is more of a necessity than a luxury in the severe winters in most of Russia.

I was very interested in a combine that had a tremendous contraption of some kind attached to it. The combine was quite a few years behind our present combines. However, the contraption that was attached to it appeared to be very practical.

It was a dryer through which the grain passed after it was separated from the head. The interpreter explained to me the need for this apparatus and told me that it had been very successful in their harvesting operations. The cattle exhibit was not very impressive. Of course, the animals looked very strange to me and were a long way from the outstanding exhibits of cattle that we have at our fairs in this country.

I saw no beef animals as such. Cattle in Russia seem to be dual purpose cattle. Why they don't raise strictly beef cattle, I do not understand, as they have vast areas of grass. The meat in the markets is extremely high, which indicated somewhat of a shortage.

Moscow University

The University of Moscow is a source of great pride to Russians. It is located on the hill above the Moscow River, which is the highest point around Moscow, and from which you have a complete panoramic view of most of the city.

It is the hill on which Napoleon stood during the siege of Moscow. I believe the interpreter told us that there are approximately 18,000 students in the University and about half of these were day students.

All of the operations seem to be confined to one main building which is a tremendous structure. It is approximately 37 stories high and is well equipped and furnished. The Russians wanted to give us an extended tour of the University, but our limited time and the press of official business prevented us from having more than a hasty visit.

We did observe several well equipped gymnasiums, several eating establishments, and a number of auditoriums. The auditoriums in several instances were designed for particular purposes such as the teaching of dramatics and so forth.

The lecture rooms were very similar to the lecture rooms in our universities here. There were several separate library facilities. The building also housed living quarters for the boarding students. We visited these and found them to be very nice.

The limited number of students attending the University rather surprised me, because the USSR does not have many universities compared to this country. It had seemed to me that the Moscow University would probably have a great deal more students.

The number of students attending Moscow University is comparable to the number of students attending the University of Texas.

Moscow is a city of between five and seven million people and could easily support several universities, if the educational standards there were equal to those to those in this country-

The Metropole

The Metropole, or subway system, of Moscow is a project of which the Russians are very, very proud. Each of the subway stations is built of a different color marble.

The Russians brag that there is more marble in these subway stations than was in all of the czarist palaces put together.

They have escalators from the ground level down into the subway. The trains are usually on time and seem to be well equipped and in good condition.

The system is very new, relatively speaking, and the Russians are obviously trying to keep it clean. How long they will succeed in this is, of course, problematical.

They insisted that we had to ride on the subway and pointed out to us that the fare is one-half ruble or about 12½ cents. I don't know how efficient its operation is, because I didn't know where we were going while we were on it or how long it took us to get there.

Frankly, if the interpreter had left us, I would probably be in there yet trying to find my way out.

I will try to cover more about the subway in subsequent newsletters.

Santa Plans Gifts For Dairymen, Too

By R. E. BURLESON
Extension Dairy Husbandman

If Santa could give dairymen the gift they'd really like this year, it probably would be higher prices for their products and lower prices for the things they have to buy.

Although Santa likes his gift to be of the best, he doesn't seem able to come up with this one. However, he says he has a gift which will help all dairymen to widen the spread in the cost-price squeeze.

Santa, being wise with years of experience, knows that dairymen must have available certain information on their herds if they are to do the best job of feeding, breeding and managing. So, his gift this year is built around the theme that "a dairyman's knowledge is no better than his information."

The wise old gentleman is giving dairymen a choice of three gifts. First, they may choose a package labeled "DHIA." Santa believes many dairymen in thickly populated dairy counties will select this gift.

It will give them an opportunity to cooperate with their neighbors in getting the information they need on their herds.

Santa has a package labeled "Official Testing" for all purebred breeders. In the package there is a note from Santa asking this question: "How can you be a breeder without herd records?"

How about all other dairymen? Santa hasn't forgotten them. This time his package is labelled, "private herd records."

This is a do-it-yourself kit but, according to Santa, it will provide the same type of information as the other two gifts.

Finally, Santa believes every dairyman will profit from his gift and, in the true spirit of the season, will want to share its benefits with others.

Extension Books Aid Gardeners

COLLEGE STATION—Both outdoor and indoor home gardeners and those who like flowers in the home will find information on the subjects in three recently-released Texas Agricultural Extension Service publications.

"Foliage Plants for the Home" describes the place of indoor plants in the modern home. Suggestions on plant selection, care and watering are major topics discussed. The number of this publication is MP-134.

"Flower Arranging is Easy" is MP-135 and the publication covers such items as equipment needed by the flower arranger; making cut flowers last longer; basic rules for arranging and design terms for flower arrangements.

"Propagation of Ornamental Plants," B-816, covers the methods and hows of propagating ornamental plants. All three are authored by A. F. DeWerth, head, Department of Floriculture and Landscape Architecture, Texas A. & M. College System.

The publications may be obtained from the offices of county extension agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

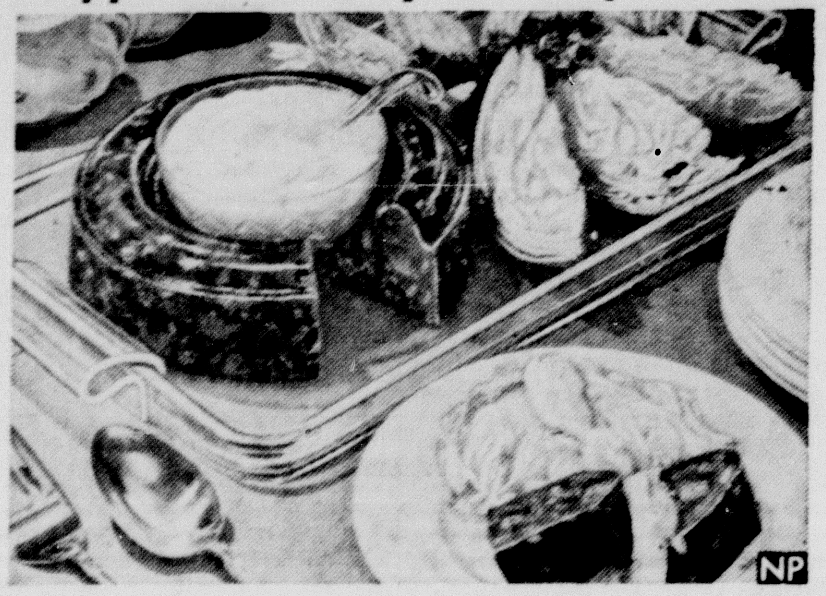
Apple-Cranberry Holiday Salad



NP

You'll have fun serving this jellied salad during the holiday season. The salad is rosy-red. Given the contrast of fresh green lettuce wedges, it's sheer delight to the eye.

And the taste! Tart and refreshing, it's a fruity combination of apple, cranberry and orange. You'll notice, too, that the crunchy pieces are evenly distributed all through the salad.

The secret is canned apple sauce.

Canned apple sauce provides smooth "body" for the chunky bits of cranberries, nuts and celery, holds them blended evenly throughout. It also bestows the delicious apple taste.

Make the salad . . . try it out on Dad and the youngsters. Chances are, it'll end not only as your pride as a party salad but a family favorite, too.

APPLE-CRANBERRY HOLIDAY SALAD

2 cups raw cranberries
1 orange, quartered
1 cup sugar
1½ cups canned apple sauce
2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
½ cup cold water
⅓ cup boiling water
½ cup chopped walnuts
1 cup diced celery
Salad greens
Mayonnaise

Using medium blade of food chopper, grind cranberries and orange (rind and pulp); add sugar. Mix well. Soften gelatine in cold water, let stand 5 minutes. Add boiling water to gelatine, stirring until dissolved. Combine cranberry mixture, apple sauce, walnuts, and celery; gradually add dissolved gelatine; mix thoroughly. Pour into 1½ quart ring mold, which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens. Serve with mayonnaise. Yields 8 servings.

5,686 Texans Sign With Draft Boards

A total of 5,686 Texans registered at local draft boards in November, nearly all of whom were 18-year-olds, according to an announcement of the state selective service headquarters.

The January draft call for the state asks for 378 men for the Army. The Navy is asking for no men in January, but will in February, when a state quota of 1,000 is expected.

Old St. Nick Was Asia Minor Native

Millions of letters are addressed each year by American youngsters to Santa Claus at the North Pole, but Saint Nicholas, patron saint of Russia, was a native of Asia Minor.

The legend of Saint Nicholas was brought to Russia by Czar Vladimir 600 years after the death of Saint Nicholas, according to some legends.

The popular conception of St. Nick then made its way to Lappland, where he acquired his sleigh and reindeer. Saint Nicholas, legend says, was the son of wealthy parents.

After the death of his parents, he made a practice of giving gold doweries to girls, dropping the gold down chimneys.

One enterprising miss hung her stockings in the chimney to catch the gold, thus establishing a Yuletide tradition.

Christmas Trees Germanic Symbol

The Christian world owes a debt of thanks to St. Boniface for instituting the evergreen as a symbol of Christmas, according to one legend.

When St. Boniface converted the Germanic tribes from the worship of Thor to Christianity, legend says, he sought to substitute a tree dedicated to good deeds and Christian principles for the "Thunder Oak" of human sacrifice.

He saw a young fir, straight, green and pointing toward heaven. "This," he said, "is the living tree with no stain of blood upon it. This shall be the sign of your new faith.

"Let us call it the Christ child tree. Carry it into your chieftain's hall. No longer shall you go into the forests to keep your feats with secret, shameful rites. Now you shall keep them at home, with laughter and love and Christian faith."

St. Boniface, the legend concludes, then predicted that the fir tree would be a symbol of love and laughter at Christmas time in homes throughout the Christian world.

Farm Fertilizer Sales Top 1954

COLLEGE STATION—Fertilizer sales in Texas during 1954-55, topped last year's mark. A total of 588,061 tons was sold, an increase of five per cent.

Mixed fertilizers accounted for 306,410 tons, or 52 per cent of the total. Nitrogenous materials, superphosphates, and ammoniated phosphates accounted for 281,651 tons, 48 per cent of the total.

Geographic regions of Texas differed widely in the amount of primary components used. Nitrogen consumption increased markedly in all regions, particularly in West Texas, which is now using about the same quantity of nitrogen as the East Texas and Gulf Coast regions.

East Texas and the Gulf Coast used by far the largest tonnage of available phosphoric acid, but consumption in all regions has decreased from the levels attained in previous years. As usual, about half of the potash used in the state was used in East Texas.

The monthly distribution of sales of primary components emphasizes the fact that too large a proportion of the year's total sales are made during just a few months.

Nearly two-thirds of the total nitrogen and potash and half of the available phosphoric acid used during the year are sold during the four month period from February through May.

Improvement in time distribution of sales would make possible the manufacture of a much larger tonnage of fertilizer without additional expenditure for equipment or labor. This in turn would result in a lower cost per ton to the farmer.

Detailed information and a complete analyses of commercial fertilizers may be obtained by asking for Bulletin 82, Analyses of Commercial Fertilizers Sold During 1954-55, prepared by J. F. Fudge, state chemist. It is available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

TO OUR LOYAL FRIENDS:

In this busy old world, it may often appear that we neglect or forget those we hold dear,
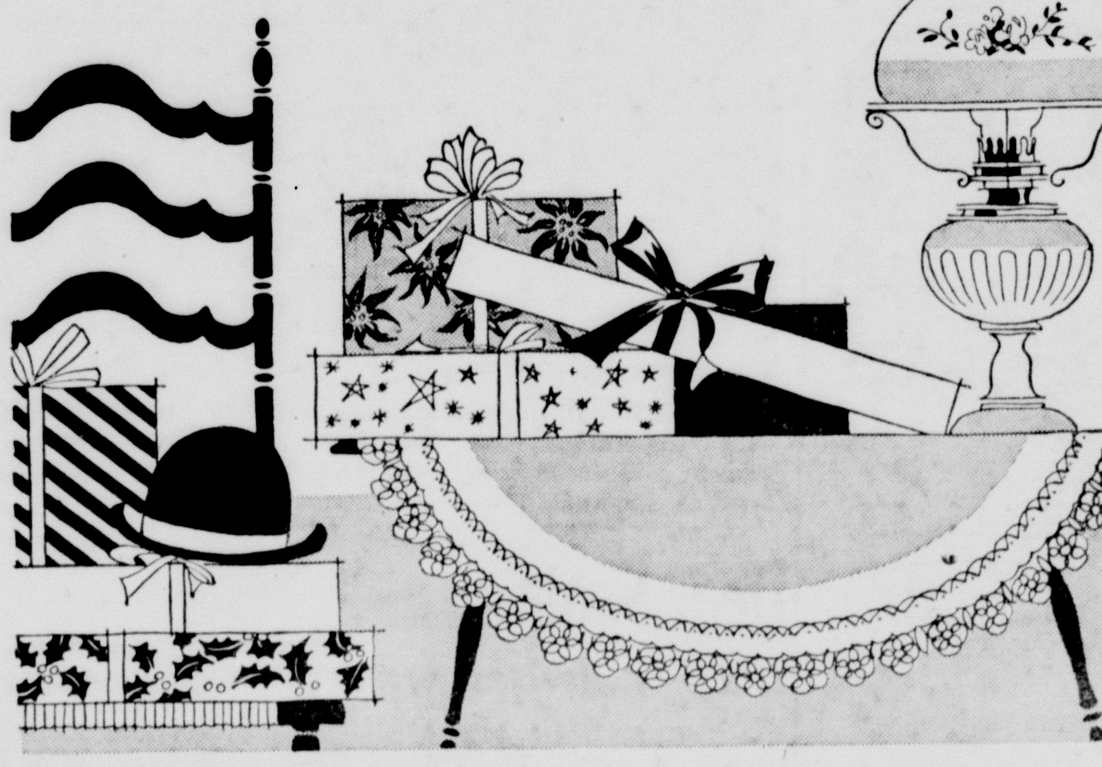
But at Christmas time, we take this space to say
That we value your friendship each and every day!
To each of you . . . A Very Merry Christmas!



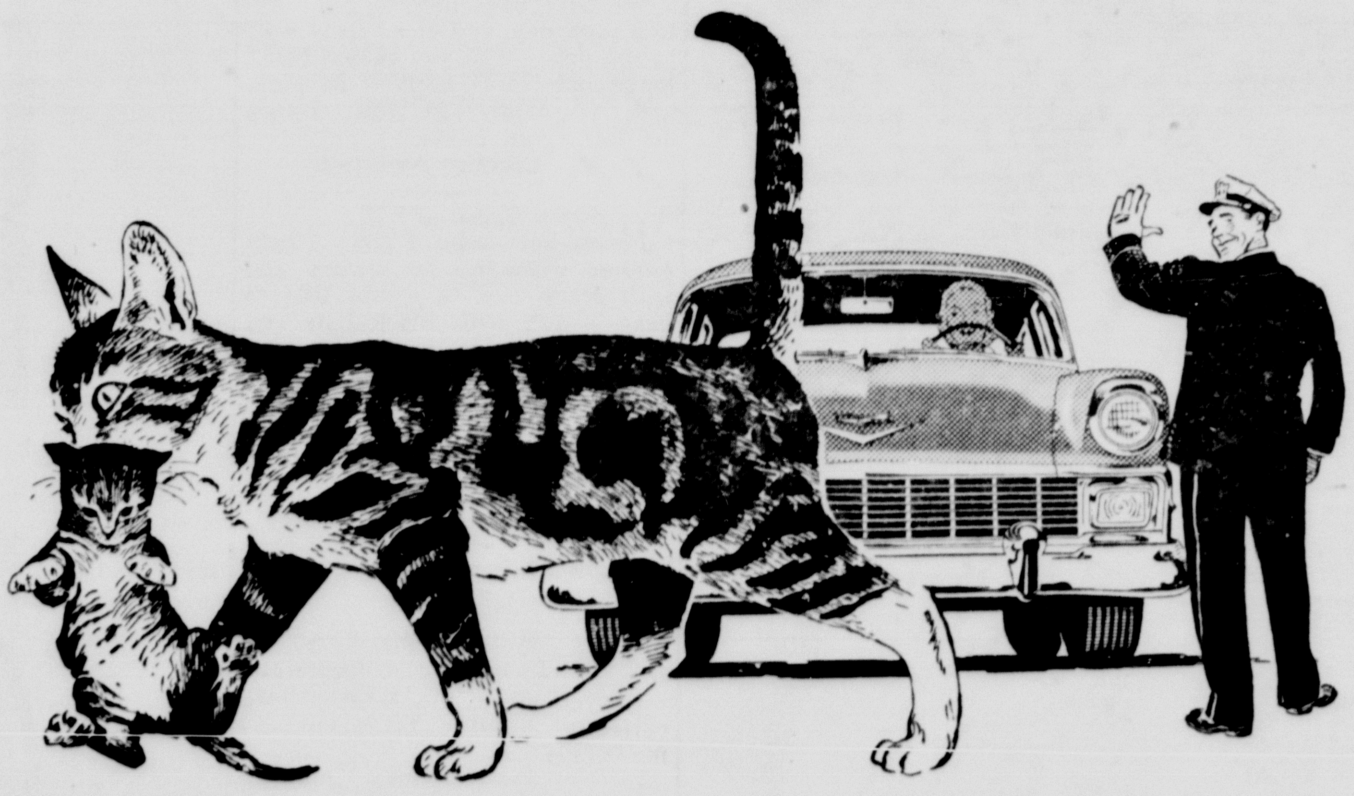
COLE & MOORE

The average industrial worker earns the price of a pound of round steak in 29 minutes as compared to 49 minutes in 1929. So states a Ohio State University-U. S. Agricultural Extension Service report. Figures are based on current prices.

Fellow across the desk from us says his wife likes the turkey sliced very thin, the long way of the bird. Told her that the delicatessen does a fine job of such slicing. We're looking forward to having him at our house for dinner Christmas day.

You can really get a bang out of quitting smoking. Proof: Fellow in Knoxville, Tenn., reached into his pocket for a coffin nail. Pulled out a two-inch firecracker.

The U. S. plans to release more aluminum to industry.



Two things that make for SAFER driving!

The first and most important thing is you — the driver. The courtesy, care, and common sense you show count more than anything else.

The second thing is the car itself. All cars are safer today. That's shown by the number of accidents in relation to the number of miles passenger cars are driven. The figure's down sharply.

Chevrolet has always made safety a major consideration, introducing many such features as the all-steel top, into its field. And this '56 Chevrolet is the safest one ever built.

Its lively new power means safer passing. Its special Ball-Race steering—oversize brakes with Anti-Dive control—bring easier, surer driving. The Unisteel construction and safety door latches of its Fisher Body—the nailed-to-the-road stability that comes from advanced suspension and better balance — the sweeping panoramic windshield — all these things add to your safety.

Seat belts with or without shoulder harness? Instrument panel padding? Of course, they're available at extra cost. As your Chevrolet dealer, we'll be glad to show you the many safety features of the '56 Chevrolet.

Buffalo football players working parttime erected the Christmas decorations on streetlamp standards around the square and down Fourth Avenue to the college. A different type of decoration was put on the highway.

Farmers Spend Big For Electric Aids

COLLEGE STATION—An estimated $24 billion will be spent by farmers of the nation for electrical appliances and equipment during the period from 1956-1975. This amounts to an average of $5,300 per farm.

The estimates are from a rural market study just completed by the Rural Electrification Administration and contains estimates for the total number of U. S. farms whether served by REA borrowers or other utilities.

Purchases during the next five years are expected to amount to about $5.3 billion and for the following 10 years to around $11.3 billion. The study is based on previous estimates that the power requirements of REA financed systems will nearly double by 1965 and triple by 1975.

It also assumes there will be no drastic changes in income, prices and technology and that the number of farms based on census definitions will decline by 15 per cent during the next 20 years.

Expenditures for 27 items are estimated in the study. Lights and house wiring will be the best sellers. Refrigerators are second; television receivers third; washing machines fourth and in order are plumbing and related facilities, home freezers and electric ranges.

In the farm equipment group, milk coolers and water pumps are expected to be the top sellers. Milking machines, drill presses, fractional horsepower motors, livestock watering equipment, power saws, feed grinders, chicken brooders, tool grinders and dairy water heaters follow in order.

Texas farmers, during the 1956-60 period, are expected to spend about $179 million for electrical appliances and equipment and for the 1961-65 period about $204 millions.

California is expected to be the top market for appliances and equipment and sales for the next five years are estimated at $297 millions.

This expansion is more evidence of how farmers are using electricity to cut production costs and make their efforts more efficient and life more enjoyable.

BOYCE HOUSE

You remember of course the fellow who had a brother-in-law who knew it all and this fellow worked to get a horse up three flights of stairs and into the bathtub and next morning the know-it-all brother-in-law rushed up into the breakfast room and yelled, "There's a horse in the bathtub!" and the other said, "Yes, I know."

There are lots of people who are like that brother-in-law; they've already heard your story or they know the news you start to tell and they interrupt to so announce.

What such a person doesn't realize is that if would assume an attitude of interest, remain quiet and listen, he would have a lot more friends. And, next time, the other fellow might really tell him something he didn't already know and was glad to hear.

Jack London gained his first recognition as a writer with a short story that he sold for $5. He became the highest paid writer in the United States; and yet he was always troubled by finances.

If someone says something clever, it will be worked to death. For example, Mark Twain's "Everybody talks about the weather but nobody does anything about it" and Irvin Cobb's "No more privacy than a gold-fish."

A Union veteran was asked, a good many years after the Civil War, "How did you get wounded in the face at the Battle of Bull Run?" He replied, "After I had run about two miles, I got careless and looked back."

The narrow-brimmed straw hats that men were wearing last summer looked silly. No, on second thought, they didn't; it was the men wearing them who looked silly.

Uncle Zeke says, "One woman will dye her hair black, another one red and another one yellow; but the woman who dyes her hair purple—who does she think she is fooling?

I don't know, sir. Mother was 28 when I was born, but now she is only 24.

Communist dominated Czechoslovakia is seeking to put more bounce in her trade with foreign countries. She is dickering with Ceylon on possibility of increasing trade — especially in rubber imports.

Will dogs in decorator colors be next? Litter recently born to a bird dog in Chicago featured six pups in conventional black, white and brown. Seventh little pointer is bright chartreuse.

Judging from the number of pre-Christmas parties scheduled for our town, they've rewritten an old Yuletide carol. Now, it goes, "Deck the Halls With Bowls of Alky."

WANT A DATE?— Harlene Miller, 17, is the girl to see. She has a whole bunch of dates for someone. Naturally. She was chosen Date Queen of 1955 at Phoenix, Ariz., heartland of one of the few date-growing areas in this country.

CANDLES TO LIGHT THE CHRIST CHILD'S WAY—Tiny miss in Berlin, Germany, is entranced as she watches the flame of the first of four Advent candles which traditionally light the Christ Child's way to earth. One candle is lighted on each of the four Sundays of Advent, the liturgical season which precedes the celebration of the Feast of Christmas.

Scout Committee Nominates Cornette For Chairman During Coming Year

Dr. James P. Cornette was nominated chairman of the Randall County Boy Scout committee at a recent meeting of Scout workers in the county.

Other officers nominated to the committee were Truett Hull, vice chairman, Tulen White of Happy, vice chairman, and Dr. L. L. Johnson, Milton Morris, Dr. Dudley Moore, Dr. J. A. Hill and W. Coy, members at large.

Dr. C. R. Nester is the outgoing county chairman.

Committee reports comprised the remainder of the business at the meeting.

Borden Price, chairman of the organization and extension committee, reported that Explorer Post 66 had gained in membership under the leadership of assistant advisor Bob Hunt. He reported that Troop 34 would be rechartered during December.

Membership in Scout groups in the county as of the last of November include 131 Cubs, 70 Scouts and 15 Explorers.

Frank Kimbrough, chairman of the leadership training committee, announced that a basic scoutmaster training course will be offered in the YMCA in Amarillo. The classes will meet at 7 p. m. on Jan. 11 and 25, Feb. 22, March 14 and 28, and April 11.

A Cub pack administration course was to be offered Dec. 13 in the First Presbyterian Church in Amarillo.

A Den Mother-Den Chief relationship course will be offered Jan. 10 at 7:30 p. m. in the same church.

Charles Donnell, chairman of the camping and activities committee, announced that Explorer Post 66 will hold an encampment at Amarillo Air Force Base on Jan. 6 and 7.

Featured during the encampment will be a flight in an Air Force C-119.

During Scout week, the committee is planning window displays, civic club and school programs. Scout Sunday will be Feb. 12.

The annual council meeting and dinner will be Jan. 24, Donnell announced. A place for the meeting has not been set.

Donnell said that the first payment of $10 is due for the Sommers Canoe Base Trip to be made July 4 to 14. The Order of the Arrow Ordeal and Brotherhood ceremonies will be held Dec. 27 and 28 at Camp Don Harrington.

Don Standley, chairman of the advancement committee, announced a Court of Honor will be held in the First Presbyterian Church on Feb. 6. The committee plans to invite representatives of civic and study clubs to be present at the court.

O. W. Parker Jr., chairman of the finance committee, reported that Happy raised $557.25 thus far in the annual finance campaign. He said that an Amarillo paper and rag company will purchase magazines and newspapers from scout troops.

This Won't Bother Most of Us Here

Since thoughts of gifts come quite naturally to mind during the Christmas season, the subject of gift taxes may be a timely one.

Although it may surprise some people, the federal government levies a tax which applies to gifts made by one person to another.

However the government has no desire to tax ordinary birthday and Christmas gifts. The law therefore excludes from taxable gifts the first $3,000 given to each individual in each calendar year.

The law also excludes from taxable gifts, gifts to the church, community chest, and similar charitable organizations, and allows each giver an exemption of $30,000 — before the tax applies.

The tax applies whether the gift is of money or of property. If it is of property, the tax is computed on the fair market value of the property at the date of the gift.

The purpose of many gifts is to remove the property from the taxable estate of the giver at the time of his death. This may or may not be accomplished.

The federal law provides that transfers made within three years before date of death shall be deemed to have been made in contemplation of death and shall be taxable in the estate of the one who dies.

It may be advisable to "look a gift horse in the mouth" for the gift may cost the one who receives the gift in income taxes as well as the giver in gift taxes.

For income tax purposes the cost basis of property received by gift is the cost to the giver regardless of the fact that the giver may have paid a gift tax on the gift. The other rule is that in case of property received by inheritance, the cost basis is the fair market value at the date of the decedent's death.

An example will show the application of the rules. Suppose a farmer acquired his land in the early days at a cost of $10,000. This property is now worth $50,000. The farmer wishes to retire and to escape estate taxes, so he gives the farm to his daughter.

Although he may pay federal gift taxes totaling several thousand dollars, when the daughter decides to sell the farm for its $50,000 value, she still has to pay income tax on $40,000 profit (difference between the sales price and her father's cost of $10,000.)

On the other hand, if the farmer had not given the farm to the daughter but had left it to her under his will, he would have saved the gift tax. The daughter would have taken the property at a cost basis of $50,000 so upon the sale she would not have had to pay any income tax.

Of course, there would have been some estate taxes and administration expenses in the father's estate, but that would have been much less than the taxes which resulted from the gift.

However, depending upon individual and particular circumstances, there may be occasions when a gift is advisable. Your lawyer can advise you on this matter.

WT Grad Receives Doctor's Degree

The Doctor of Medicine degree has been conferred upon Robert L. Wright, according to word received here.

Dr. Wright was graduated as a pre-med student from West Texas State in 1950, and attended medical school at Houston. His wife is also a former WT student.

They are making their home at 1109 Garnet Ave., in Odessa, where Dr. Wright is practicing.

Seven Confirmed At All Saints'

The Right Reverend George H. Quarterman, bishop of North Texas, confirmed a group of seven at the evening services of All Saints' Episcopal Church last Wednesday night.

Presented for confirmation by the Rev. Lester Jones were Emma Liston Coleman and Eddie Pettitt of Canyon; and Katherine Miller, Frederick Jones, Judity Bradley, Carl Stapp Jr. and Jeoffrey Kirby of Hereford.

The table decor was white with red roses. Refreshments of individual white silver cross cakes and spiced tea were served by Mrs. V. K. McCaskill of Canyon and Mrs. Marcus Bell of Hereford.

The Big Four Foreign Minister's Conference in Geneva, formally adjourned without fixing a date for a further meeting.

AUSTIN—Purchasers of insurance policies from U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co. are advised to buy other coverage, for their own safety.

That's the recommendation of Garland Smith, chairman of the Texas Board of Insurance Commissioners.

District Judge Charles O. Betts has appointed State Liquidator J. D. Wheeler, as temporary receiver, to take over operation of the multi-million dollar Waco firm which the insurance commissioners have declared insolvent.

U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co., closed last week at Judge Betts' order, has sold fidelity, surety, guaranty, fire, auto, general liability and all forms of casualty insurance except workmen's compensation.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd filed the suit against the firm. Action was necessary to prevent future loss to depositors and other creditors, said the insurance board.

U. S. Automotive Service and Arkansas Fire and Marine Insurance Co., alleged subsidiaries, also were covered by Judge Betts' order.

Offices of the firm are located at Austin, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Hillsboro, Houston, Lubbock, Sherman, San Antonio, Tyler and Waco.

J. B. Alderdice, chief of the safety responsibility division of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said that the department would accept, in lieu of cash security, any automobile liability policy issued by this company up to the date when and if the company finally is placed in receivership.

"However," said Alderdice, "if a suit is filed and judgment obtained against the holder of such a policy, as the result of a motor vehicle accident, and the judgment is not satisfied by either the company or the policy holder, it will be necessary for the department to suspend the driver's license and vehicle registration until the judgment has been satisfied and proof of financial responsibility for the future is furnished."

More Land Suits

Six suits seeking recovery of $288,489 on loans made under the veterans land program were filed in Austin last week by Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd.

The land is located in Dimmitt, Zavala and Uvalde counties. Suits pertained to block deals made with 42 veterans, mostly Latin-Americans. Ten south Texas land promoters were listed as defendants.

This makes a total of 30 such civil suits brought by the state. Total recovery sought is $2,945,381. Total recovered to date, in five suits, is $381,032.

Anti-Parr Forces Win

Anti-George Parr forces are one step nearer their goal of prosecuting the South Texas political boss on charges of misappropriation of Duval County funds.

Last week the State Supreme Court unanimously upheld the suspension of a Duval County Commissioner, Mrs. Estella G. Garcia. This shifted the balance of power to a commissioners court that sides with the state on where and how Parr shall be tried for recovery of about $1,000,000.

Texas Leads in Dope

Texas leads all other states in illegal narcotics traffic. So says Charles F. Herring of Austin. He stated that pushers find it easy to obtain dope in Mexico-Texas border towns.

Herring is a former U. S. District Attorney. He testified at hearings in San Antonio, before U. S. Senator Price Daniel's subcommittee on dope traffic.

Both the Texas Department of Public Safety and federal units along the border are "seriously undermanned," said Herring. He recommended more men and equipment . . . much stiffer laws.

Short Snorts

Charles M. Rogers of Amarillo has been reappointed a member of the Teacher Retirement Board of Trustees by Gov. Allan Shivers.

Only 15,000 of the state's 38,000 employers have taken steps to comply with the state's new unemployment compensation law which takes effect Jan. 1. The new law includes employers of four or more persons. Previously only employers of eight or more had to pay unemployment taxes.

Bids totaling $6,886,390.57 on 155 miles of road construction were tabulated last week by the State Highway Commission.

Contracts let thus far on the Dallas-Fort Worth toll road will total $13,524,321 after awards are made this week for six bridges. Low bid submitted to the Texas Turnpike Authority was by Harry Newton, Inc., of Graham, for $2,196,273.

Lack of moisture, recurrent freezes and strong dusty winds are slowly strangling wheat prospects in the Plains Country, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Six Texas hospital construction projects have been qualified to receive more than $1,000,000 in federal aid. Approved by the State Board of Health were: Donley County Hospital at Clarendon, Texarkana Hospital, Llano County Hospital at Llano, Joint City-County Public Health Center at Fort Worth and Wichita General Hospital at Wichita Falls.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, predicts violent death for 204 Texans during the Christmas-New Year's holiday. He estimated 112 traffic deaths, 39 murders and suicides and 53 other accidental deaths. Last year's traffic prediction and final count was 108.

Bright factors in the Texas Employment Commission's annual report to the governor: 1) Unemployment hit a new low in August. 2) Workers covered by unemployment compensation increased 5.1 per cent. 3) Earnings of production workers increased, to average $75.42 weekly.

Infestation of pink bollworms is worse this year than last, says State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White. He warns farmers to plow up fields of cotton stalks.

Feast of the good saint, traditional bringer of gifts to Dutch children, is celebrated on Dec. 6. For centuries, Christmas was purely a religious holiday in Holland, but the gift-giving custom has since spread to embrace Christmas Day.

The club decided to spend the meeting period this week in fixing up toys for distribution to needy children on Christmas.

Visitors to the club were Davis Harrell, George Graham and J. D. Byrd, Canyon, Bob Raspberry, Plainview, and J. D. Merrill, Seagoville.

University Professor Writes Story Of Beginning of Christmas Season

Dr. Lindell O. Harris, Hardin-Simmons University Professor of Bible, has written this Christmas message as the university's seasonal greeting from one of its Christian institutions to the people of Texas.

The Christmas story centers in the Christ-child of Bethlehem. However, this fascinating story had its beginning in ancient Mesopotamia, the cradle of the race and the probable site of Eden.

The "twelve days" of Christmas, exchanging of gifts, brightly decorated floats, merrymaking, singing from house to house, feastings, and religious processions were all found in Mesopotamia more than 4,000 years ago.

The New Year's festival lasted 12 days, as the Christmas season is supposed to do. It was a time of crisis for the people as the old year died and the New Year born.

Many masqueraded in gay costumes. Friends exchanged gifts with one another.

Such was the festival spirit of this ancient land.

These ancient festivals found their way westward to Greece and Rome. It was in Rome that the festival of the Saturnalia was conducted with such boisterous rejoicing.

It began around the middle of December and lasted until Jan. 1. In the midst was Dec. 25, the day when the sun was at its lowest ebb but soon ready to increase again and send its rays of warmth and growth to the earth.

They exchanged gifts and wished one another good luck. Moreover, the Romans decorated their houses this time with boughs of laurel and green trees and with lighted candles and lamps.

Slaves and masters ate together, often exchanging places, the masters waiting on the slaves.

After a battle of centuries the thoughts of the people were turned from the pagan gods to the worship of the Lord.

The festival spirit of pagan merrymaking became the glad rejoicing over the birth of a Saviour.

When was Jesus born? No one knows the exact historical date of His birth. The observance of Dec. 25 as the birthday of Christ was chosen several centuries after His death.

In fact, the early Christians were not interested in the date of His birth. The important thing to them was His death and resurrection.

Jesus was finally given a birthday. The Christmas story, after a long voyage of many centuries through many lands, has centered its message in the birth of the Christ-child.

Today it is a story that has become sacred to untold millions, not because of its ancient pagan background but because of its meaning to every Christian.

It means that more than 1,900 years ago the supra-temporal Christ broke into the stream of human history by taking unto Himself a human nature and being born of a human mother.

Hints for Fireless Christmas Offered

Do you want to make the staff of the State Department of Health happy, and do yourself a good turn at the same time?

All you have to do is follow the Department's six suggestions on using fire-proof holiday decorations, "so Christmas will be the festive time it is supposed to be."

1. Use only flameproof crepe paper for streamers. If the package doesn't say "flameproof," don't buy it.

2. Never use cotton bunting or any other decoration unless it has been flameproofed by the manufacturer, or unless you yourself have treated it with a non-flamable solution before using it. The local fire department will be happy to advise you on this point.

3. If you think Christmas simply will not be complete without the glow of candles, use them with extra care. Never use them on Christmas trees. Take special pains to keep them away from curtains, and put them in sturdy flat-bottomed holders to insure against their tipping over.

4. Make certain you use only decorative lighting which carries Underwriters Laboratory approval. These fixtures can be identified on store counters by the UL label they are stamped with. Even after buying only UL products, pull the power cord from the wall outlet when lights are turned off. This is important because insulation failures and overheated circuits could develop while you are absent from home.

5. Saw your Christmas tree off at an agle at least one inch above the original cut, and keep it standing in a pan of water throughout the holiday period. The tree will thus absorb a great deal of water, especially during the first few days, and thereby be less vulnerable to fire. Be sure to add water to the pan from time to time so the entire angle cut on the stem will always be submerged.

6. As an added precaution, take down the Christmas tree and the decorations as soon as practical after the holidays. If you have a real tree, dispose of it as prescribed by the fire department.

"Please," the Department urges, "keep these few simple rules in mind this year as you make your Christmas preparations. Try hard to comply with them.

"Christmas is supposed to be a happy time."

Gains in Quail Population Shown By Hunters Who Sent in Bird Wings

AUSTIN—Substantial quail population gains have been reported from some Texas areas, although bobwhite numbers still are below normal for the state as a whole, said W. S. Jennings, assistant director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

"We are a long way from restoring quail to a satisfactory status," he observed, "but there is definite evidence that some progress has been made."

He attributed the rally, as observed during the current general hunting season that opened Dec. 1, to a combination of improved weather with its consequent effect on food and cover, and to the increased interest of hunters and landowners in improving quail habitat.

Jennings said one sign that conditions, concerning both game and hunters are improving, is the cooperative attitude of the nimrods in forwarding quail wings to commission headquarters in Austin.

The commission supplies postage-paid envelopes for distribution to sportsmen either directly or through local game wardens or wildlife biologists.

Technicians depend on the wings for vital information about the annual rate of quail population turnover or what the life span is for a given generation of quail, and they need this data throughout a series of both good and bad years such as have prevailed since 1950.

Jennings cited one letter as typical of the cooperative attitude of quail hunters and also reflecting what has been happening to quail in many localities. It was written by Principal C. J. Jackson of the Borger Public Schools, and follows:

In attached box, you will find wings from eight quail, which I killed last weekend. They were found east of Wellington, along the breaks of the Canadian river, adjoining the Oklahoma line.

"Only last year I hunted on the same land, and found only five birds, none of which I killed. Well, last week we found about 75 birds over the same range, and killed 12 of them. I'm sure all of them are this year's hatch. Judging from the wildness and the speed of the covies, I think there will be plenty of hardy birds to survive the winter, and will produce a good crop next year.

"Another fellow and I have hunted this same place for the last 11 years and have found the largest crop of birds this year that has been on the place for the last eight years."

Deer Hunt Aids Technical Study

AUSTIN—The 1955 Texas deer season, successful for the hunters, has contributed greatly toward technical knowledge, according to E. A. Walker, director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

While big game hunters are returning from afield with fat venison and choice antlers, scientists figuratively follow in their footsteps in accelerated studies of harvest results.

The director said principal emphasis naturally concerns the expanded antlerless program which is counted on for vital information about restoration activities.

Incomplete reports indicate that upwards of 3,000 antlerless deer were taken in the six counties provided with extra responsibility by the Legislature and the commission. More than 5,000 permits were issued to landowners in the six counties.

The early harvest was heavy but hunters' luck decreased as the special season progressed mainly because the deer became too wary for all except expert shots.

"We had hoped to remove all of the surplus deer from the areas earmarked for the special harvest," said Walker. "What happens now in those overpopulated places depends largely on the severity of the winter. The excess could be reduced by extreme cold where food is scarce.

"However, prospects at this time are much brighter for the remaining deer due to greatly improved range conditions over the same period last year."

Walker said technical studies will be concentrated in representative areas such as one large Llano county ranch which is enclosed in deer proof fence.

"Advance counts of the surplus deer on this ranch and the total buck harvest plus the antlerless harvest will be the basis for the observations on this ranch," said Walker.

"We hope to use this vast fenced laboratory, with its varying natural food facilities and range, to pin down important facts about deer herd management.

"This will equip our technicians to go ahead with a broad restoration program based on what apparently has been a successful beginning during the first antlerless harvests these past three seasons. The outcome may well have a profound effect on the future of deer hunting in Texas."

United States exports to Russia and satellite nations totaled $2,066,000 in the second quarter of this year, according to the Commerce Department. This compares with $1,465,000 in exports for the first quarter.

Roundball Eagles Invited to Games

Members of the basketball squads of Canyon High School have been invited to attend the eighth annual Sunshine basketball tournament at Eastern New Mexico University Dec. 28-30, according to Al Garten, director of athletics.

With four games being played daily, the high school cagemen will be able to see eight college teams representing eight states in action. Games are played in the afternoon and evening.

Approved by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics the tournament will feature the teams of Arkansas State Teachers, Conway; Eastern New Mexico University, Portales; Ft. Hays State, Kansas; Southeastern Missouri, Cape Girardeau; Southern Illinois, Carbondale; Southwestern Oklahoma, Weatherford; West Texas State, Canyon; and Western State, Gunnison, Colo.

Ft. Hays Kansas State will be defending the championship it won last year by defeating McKendree college of Illinois, 90-72. Besides Ft. Hays and Eastern, two other teams from last year's tournament are Western State college and Southwestern Oklahoma.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add boiling water. Mix slightly beaten egg yolks, sugar, salt, vanilla and 3 Tablespoons milk in a 1½-quart bowl. Stir in gelatin gradually. Chill until slightly thicker than unbeaten egg whites, stirring now and then. Put egg whites into a cold quart bowl.
